

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Joyce Beatty
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Beatty:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Peppi Wilson. He can be reached on (312) 353-5536.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Kerry Bentivolio
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Bentivolio:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Belinda Cheatham. She can be reached on (312) 353-5537.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Ami Bera
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Bera:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representatives responsible for providing administrative support to your District office are Nancy Simpson and Sunny Duldulao. They can be reached on (415) 522-2633/2628 respectively.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Michelle James Bridenstine
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Bridenstine:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Pat Albany. She can be reached on (817) 731-8259.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Susan Brooks
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Brooks:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Belinda Cheatham. She can be reached on (312) 353-5537.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Julia Brownley
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Brownley:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representatives responsible for providing administrative support to your District office are Nancy Simpson and Sunny Duldulao. They can be reached on (415) 522-2633/2628 respectively.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Cheri Bustos
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Bustos:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Belinda Cheatham. She can be reached on (312) 353-5537.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Antonio Cardenas
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Cardenas:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representatives responsible for providing administrative support to your District office are Nancy Simpson and Sunny Duldulao. They can be reached on (415) 522-2633/2628 respectively.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Matthew Alton Cartwright
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Cartwright:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Sue Brown. She can be reached on (215) 446-4915.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized, flowing script.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Joaquin Castro
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Castro:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Connie Cervantez. She can be reached on (817) 978-2376.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Christopher Collins
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Collins:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Steve Ronaghan. He can be reached on (212) 264-8252.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Paul Cook
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Cook:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representatives responsible for providing administrative support to your District office are Nancy Simpson and Sunny Duldulao. They can be reached on (415) 522-2633/2628 respectively.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Thomas Cotton
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Cotton:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Pat Albany. She can be reached on (817) 731-8259.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Kevin Cramer
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Cramer:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Diane Authier. She can be reached on (303) 236-7151.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Steve Daines
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Daines:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Diane Authier. She can be reached on (303) 236-7151.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Rodney Davis
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Davis:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Belinda Cheatham. She can be reached on (312) 353-5537.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable John Delaney
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Delaney:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Terri Schiavo. She can be reached on (215) 446-4916.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Susan DelBene
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative DelBene:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Diane Authier. She can be reached on (303) 236-7151.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Dennis Heck
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Heck:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Diane Authier. She can be reached on (303) 236-7151.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Ron DeSantis
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative DeSantis:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representatives responsible for providing administrative support to your District office are Regina Harden and Randy Beers. They can be reached on (404) 331-3243/0982 respectively.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Douglas Collins
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Collins:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Regina Harden. She can be reached on (404)331-3243.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Tammy Duckworth
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Duckworth:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Belinda Cheatham. She can be reached on (312) 353-5537.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized, sweeping flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable William Enyart
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Enyart:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Belinda Cheatham. She can be reached on (312) 353-5537.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Elizabeth Esty
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Esty:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Steve Ronaghan. He can be reached on (212) 264-8252.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Bill Foster
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Foster:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Belinda Cheatham. She can be reached on (312) 353-5537.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Lois Frankel
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Frankel:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Regina Harden. She can be reached on (404)331-3243.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Tulsi Gabbard
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Gabbard:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representatives responsible for providing administrative support to your District office are Nancy Simpson and Sunny Duldulao. They can be reached on (415) 522-2633/2628 respectively.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Pete Gallego
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Gallego:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Connie Cervantez. She can be reached on (817) 978-2376.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa.A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Joe Garcia
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Garcia:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Regina Harden. She can be reached on (404)331-3243.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Alan Grayson
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Grayson:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representatives responsible for providing administrative support to your District office are Regina Harden and Randy Beers. They can be reached on (404) 331-3243/0982 respectively.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable George Holding
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Holding:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Jenny Mooney. She can be reached on (404)331-4404.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Steven Horsford
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Horsford:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representatives responsible for providing administrative support to your District office are Nancy Simpson and Sunny Duldulao. They can be reached on (415) 522-2633/2628 respectively.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Richard Hudson
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Hudson:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Jenny Mooney. She can be reached on (404) 331-4404.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Jared Huffman
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Huffman:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representatives responsible for providing administrative support to your District office are Nancy Simpson and Sunny Duldulao. They can be reached on (415) 522-2633/2628 respectively.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Joseph P. Kennedy III
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Kennedy:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is John Foley. He can be reached on (617) 565-6000.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized, flowing script.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Daniel Maffei
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Maffei:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Steve Ronaghan. He can be reached on (212) 264-8252.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Sean Patrick Maloney
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Maloney:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Steve Ronaghan. He can be reached on (212) 264-8252.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized, sweeping flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Thomas Massie
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Massie:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Jenny Mooney. She can be reached on (404)331-4404.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Gloria McLeod
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative McLeod:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representatives responsible for providing administrative support to your District office are Nancy Simpson and Sunny Duldulao. They can be reached on (415) 522-2633/2628 respectively.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized, sweeping flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Grace Meng
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Meng:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Steve Ronaghan. He can be reached on (212) 264-8252.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized, flowing script.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Allen Messer
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Messer:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Belinda Cheatham. She can be reached on (312) 353-5537.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Markwayne Mullin
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Mullin:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Pat Albany. She can be reached on (817) 731-8259.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Patrick Murphy
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Murphy:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Regina Harden. She can be reached on (404)331-3243.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Richard Nolan
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Nolan:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Pat Albany. She can be reached on (817) 731-8259.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Robert O'Rourke
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative O'Rourke:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Connie Cervantez. She can be reached on (817) 978-2376.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Donald M. Payne Jr.
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Payne:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Steve Ronaghan. He can be reached on (212) 264-8252.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Scott Perry
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Perry:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representative responsible for providing administrative support to your District office is Sue Brown. She can be reached on (215) 446-4915.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator

GSA Administrator

January 29, 2013

The Honorable Scott Peters
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Representative Peters:

I wish to congratulate you on your election to the United States House of Representatives. Public service is a rewarding and challenging calling; I wish you every success as you begin your legislative career.

I would like to share with you the integral role the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) plays in support of the public and private sectors. GSA manages and supports the core functions of Federal agencies by providing superior workplace solutions, expert and innovative information technology solutions, best value acquisition services and close oversight of Government wide management policies. GSA manages over $50 billion of office space, supplies, communication services, acquisition services and transportation for all Federal agencies and Departments. The war fighter, the firefighter, the office worker - all Federal employees rely on GSA to provide the goods, services and space to perform their duties. State and local governments depend on GSA as well for acquisition services and in improving Federal stewardship with oversight of Government wide management policies. Citizens rely on GSA for information on securing Government contracts, providing "one-stop" Government access and making Government more transparent and accountable. GSA provides Federal market leadership for the achievement of a zero environmental footprint by developing sustainable, high-performance buildings, with green practices, performance goals, and measures. In acquisitions, GSA provides renewable, earth-friendly products and goods to help other agencies meet this goal.

GSA is proud of its long standing partnership with the U.S. House of Representatives Chief Administrative Officer providing services and support to House District offices. The services include planning and providing energy-efficient space in GSA-controlled buildings, office furniture, and miscellaneous services. The GSA Congressional Services Representatives responsible for providing administrative support to your District office are Nancy Simpson and Sunny Duldulao. They can be reached on (415) 522-2633/2628 respectively.

U.S. General Services Administration
1800 F Street, NW
Washington, DC 20405-0002
Telephone: (202) 501-0800
Fax: (202) 219-1243
www.gsa.gov

If you didn't have the opportunity to meet directly with your Congressional Services Representative during the House Member-elect orientation we would be happy to brief you on the services and support GSA can provide. We look forward to a close, productive working relationship with you and your staff.

Once again I offer my congratulations on your election to the United States House of Representatives. If you need to discuss any GSA issue please do not hesitate to contact me or Lisa A. Austin, Acting Associate Administrator, Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs, at (202) 501-0563.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dan Tangherlini', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Dan Tangherlini
Acting Administrator